

HOPES NO LONGER DEFERRED.

Newly Elected County Officials Daily Installed in Their Offices.

DISTRICT JUDGES DIVIDE THEIR WORK.

Some New Rules Decided Upon—County Judge Eller and Coroner Maul Have Cases at Once—Changing Clerks and Deputies.

Yesterday any number of men who have drawn their fees and salaries from the public crib during the past two years stopped out into the cold world to combat with other private citizens for wealth and place.

At an early hour the judges elect of the district court met in equity room No. 1 in the Bee building, and at once proceeded to the assigning of the dockets for the ensuing year.

The task was performed in a harmonious manner. As a result of the meeting Justice Popwell and Judge Irvine will preside over the equity dockets in rooms 1 and 2, respectively, in the Bee building.

Judge Scott will take room 1 in the court house and will look after criminal business. Judge Scott will look after outside work in Washington, Burns and Murray, holding his first term in Washington county, February 29.

Prior to the opening of the next term of court all of the judges will buckle on the harness and dispose of such business as may come before them for consideration.

It was decided that Justice Popwell should call his docket during the first week of the term, Judge Keyser his during the second week and Judge Doane during the third week.

After that the dockets will be called in rotation. In fixing fees to be allowed for defending prisoners in indicting circumstances it was decided to limit the amount to $25, except in cases of homicide.

Judge Eller First on Deck. Of the county officials, County Judge Eller was the first man to arrive. He was met at the door of the county court house by Shields, who bid him a cordial welcome.

Steadily he went on, and in a few minutes he had examined the docket and called to the clerk for the first case. He then turned to Judge Eller, and the official admitted that the first case was the business, but opined that he could not do the job.

"Hold up your hands and be sworn," commanded the judge, and the witness swore. The bustling groom complied and the judge started in with, "Do you solemnly swear that you will support the constitution of the United States and—"

That is not what I want to hear," interrupted the witness. "Let me start in once more." Bracing to make a second effort the judge said, "Do you solemnly swear that you will support the constitution of the United States and—"

"Do you, Frank, swear that you will tell the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth, such as you know and believe to be true, and that you will never say anything to the contrary?"

"Now, let me try it again," and without more ado the judge commenced by asking: "Does any one object to my legal impediment why—no that will never do."

Judge Shields, who had his humor behind a judge, flew to the rescue. "You can't do it, Judge. Try my form; it works like butter."

A marriage license was dug up and read to the couple, both of whom were on the verge of despair. They promised, contributed a fee and instantly bled themselves from the building.

MAYOR BEMIS' FIRST VETO.

It is Applied to Several Items in the Last Appropriation Ordinance.

HOW HUGH MURPHY GOT THE JOB.

It Was a Complicated Case and the City Will Pay for the Work—Contractor Coots Makes a Proposition Concerning Heating.

All of the members of the new council, except Mr. Chaffee, were present at a special meeting held last night. The mayor was called for the purpose of considering the appropriation ordinance for liabilities incurred in December.

Mayor Bemis turned the ordinance, vetoing these items: John Grandfield, sidewalk inspector, $11.60; John A. O'Keefe, sixth estimate for grading Douglas street, $1,404; N. Noiday, removing dead animals, $120.25; Mahoney & Coan, grading Thirtieth street, $863.46; C. E. Fanning & Co., North Omaha sewer, $165.47; John F. Coots, city hall estimates, $9,140.

These items had all been paid over except that of Mr. Coots, and his estimate was vetoed because of the condition of the city hall fund. The items were stricken from the ordinance, which was then passed.

C. H. Venner, vice president of the American Water Works company, presented a communication expressing the desire of the company to have the city purchase a water hydrant at such places as the council might designate. The proposition was placed on file.

The bond of Mayor Bemis as member of the Board of Fire and Police Commissioners was presented and approved by a majority of the board.

The appointment of John Westberg as deputy comptroller, submitted by Comptroller Olson, was confirmed.

Explaining the Murphy Contract. City Attorney Poppleton reported on the matter of the contract for the repair of the delinquent tax list had been drawn and assigned to County Treasurer Snyder and Mr. Snyder's receipt for the same was attached.

Another thing that appears to be a little off color on the surface is the fact that the date is January 7.

The Real Estate Owners association has taken hold of the matter and it is proposed to make Mr. O'Malley's name and the name of the warrant is returned or surrender the amount of $1 in gold cash.

But can you do that? asked Mr. Bruner. "Is there any money in the general fund and will there be after the debts contracted in 1891 have been paid?"

Mr. Lowry explained that the contract could not be let to anyone except Mr. Murphy, because he was under contract with the city to keep the water works in repair for a year and could not have been held to that contract had the work of repaving been awarded to another contractor.

Contractor Coots presented a communication relative to the heating of the new city hall during the progress of its completion. He stated that it would require the temporary setting of 150 radiators at $3 each and $15 a day for coal and labor of heating.

He stated that it would require the temporary setting of 150 radiators at $3 each and $15 a day for coal and labor of heating. He would pay half the amount and the city would pay the other half.

After some discussion the matter was referred to a special committee consisting of McLennan, Edwards and Prince. The bids for elevators were referred to this committee.

CHAIRMAN O'KEEFE WATCHED.

Members of the Board of County Commissioners Surprise the President.

BERLIN WAS BOUND TO HAVE HIS SAY.

He Made a Speech in Spite of the Chair's Ruling, to Which Mr. O'Keefe Replied in Kind—About a Grand Jury.

The old Board of County Commissioners died hard. At the session yesterday afternoon the heads of a number of justices and constables were approved.

Before leaving the room Mr. Berlin requested that Mr. O'Keefe take the chair for a moment, but Mr. O'Keefe declined, insisting that the board had adjourned at 10 o'clock and could not be reconvened.

PUSHING WORLD'S FAIR WORK.

Great Things Have Been Accomplished During the Past Month.

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE BEE.

Chicago, Ill., Jan. 7.

During December the work on the world's fair building was pushed ahead. Regardless of the weather, the average daily number of workmen reached 3,500 men, and on fair days at least 4,300 laborers were employed.

The contract for grading the grounds is ended, the job costing nearly $500,000. Mayor Hubble, the British ambassador at Washington, thanking him for the picture of the Columbian exposition sent to the legation, Sir Julian says no effort on his part will be wanting to assist, so far as lies in his power, in making the exposition an unqualified success.

The committee on ceremonies has approved the plan for the dedicatory exercises and chief of construction, which has been authorized to prepare plans for the seating arrangements and interior decoration of the building in which the ceremonies proper will be held.

Interesting Capitalists in Beet Sugar. Prof. E. H. Sallee of Norfolk, Neb., is in the city with a view to interesting capitalists in the manufacture of beet sugar. He constructed and put in operation the first two beet sugar refineries in America, located at Norfolk and Grand Island.

Board No. 2 of the general board of appeals will reach Chicago this morning and will be in session this afternoon. Appeals from the decisions of the Chicago appeals board are being heard.
